Children's Healthcare of Atlanta Cardiology

Sibley Heart Center Cardiology will soon be Children's Healthcare of Atlanta Cardiology

We are pleased to announce Sibley Heart Center Cardiology will be renamed Children's Healthcare of Atlanta Cardiology in October 2022. This aims to further align the outpatient cardiology clinics under the umbrella of Children's Healthcare of Atlanta Heart Center, highlighting the continuity of care between our outpatient clinics and inpatient services, from the prenatal period to infancy and through young adulthood. The Sibley Heart Center Cardiology name may be changing, but the high-quality individualized care that our patients are used to receiving will remain the same.

We will work with you and your physicians to provide all necessary communication and support.
